

Section Two Euston to King's Cross

Section Two

Euston to King's Cross

Two route options have been identified for this section which runs between Euston Station and King's Cross.

Both options serve the King's Cross and St Pancras area including the new international rail terminal.

It is important that we have your views on this section. Please complete the questionnaire at the back of this brochure to give us your feedback.

Option 1 - green

Euston to King's Cross via Crowndale Road and Pancras Road

From Euston station the route travels north along Eversholt Street then left into Lidlington Place and right onto Hampstead Road. It then turns right onto Crowndale Road. At the eastern end of Crowndale Road the route crosses into Pancras Road and then left in to Goods Way, approaching King's Cross Station from the north. In the opposite direction, the route turns left out of Crowndale Road to go south along Eversholt Street.

Advantages

- Interchange with Underground at Mornington Crescent
- Access to shops and amenities at Mornington Crescent
- Good access to St. Pancras Hospital

Disadvantages

- Longer and less direct route
- No direct interchange with St Pancras Station

Option 2 - orange

Euston to King's Cross via Somers Town

From Euston station this route travels north along Eversholt Street before turning right into Polygon Road.

At the cross roads with Chalton Street the route turns right into Chalton Street. At the junction with Phoenix Road the route turns left into Brill Place, along Midland Road into Goods Way, entering King's Cross station from the north.

The reverse route follows Phoenix Road straight through to Eversholt Street.

Advantages

- Direct and quick route
- Less effect on traffic at major junctions
- Serves Somers Town directly
- Interchanges directly with St Pancras International

Disadvantages

- Operates through a largely residential area
- Does not directly serve St Pancras Hospital
- No interchange with Mornington Crescent
